Bedeille on the Big Events of 1939

DEDICATION: ORVIS GROUT

Shakespeare's immortal lines . . . . "All The World's a Stage . . . . . " are truly exemplified on this western Kansas college campus. Upon this stage a myriad of flesh and blood actors and actresses enact their roles from day to day, performing their individual tasks while seeking a higher education.

As a tribute to youthful, inspiring, Orvis Grout, who has instilled and carried high the ideals of romanticism, we humbly dedicate this 1939 Reveille.

Men of Our Destiny

As every play, motion picture, or theatrical production needs backers and administrators, so does an institution of learning need its Board of Regents. Fort Hays Kansas State College can feel justly proud to have this group of successful and influential men as the guiding factor of its destiny.

Their able and expert opinions have enabled this college to become a leader in its field. Their foresight, perseverance and faith have helped this institution make a rapid and permanent growth . a lasting tribute to education in western Kansas.

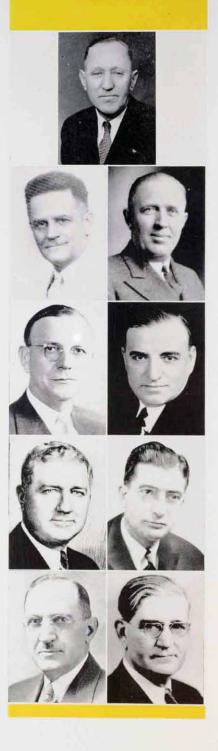

Many have been the trials and struggles in the history of this college. Yet they are small indeed when compared to past accomplishments and honors to be attained.

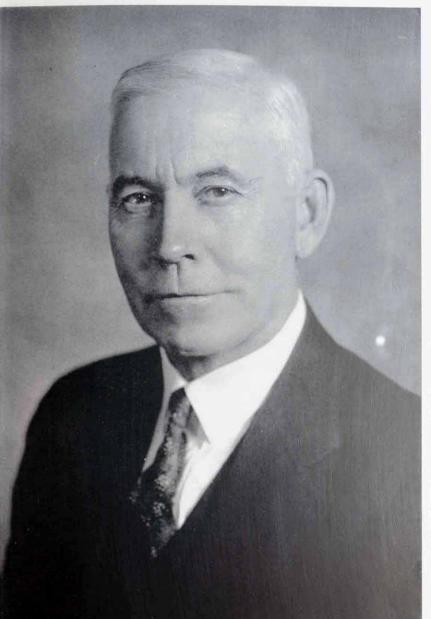

Behind the various activities of Fort Hays State, aiding and moulding our path of progress, has been this loyal group of councilmen. They have given generously of their time, talents and experience. Their unified efforts have brought us much.

As a gesture of appreciation, we give our wholehearted thanks to these men and earnestly hope we can prove worthy of their backing.

C. E. Rarick

The college president is the Will Hays of our campus. He must censor and advise, direct and suggest —always seeking to promote the interests of the college.

This tremendous task is not an easy one, but Dr. C. E. Rarick has proved himself fully capable. May he continue his work for many years.

These delights if thou canst give,
Mirth, with thee I mean to live.

Directors

Since the faculty holds an important position in the affairs of college life, we are devoting a section to the instructors of each department. These faculty members are the connecting links in the long chain of ever changing student groups. They see Freshmen as they first enter classes with high hopes and ambitions, and guide them until they have reached Commencement Day and have fulfilled their ambitions or found new fields of endeavor.

Students of Fort Hays scatter in many directions. Often they meet with other alumni of Fort Hays and compare memories of college life. While they may know many of the same students, they are more likely to find that they have studied under some of the same instructors, heard a few of the same jokes, and flunked a few of the same tests.

It is with a friendly spirit that students recall the men and women under whom they have studied in college. Each one influences members of his classes with his individual personality, with his philosophy of life, and with the standards he holds before them from day to day.

Those who have been privileged to know the faculty in a social way have an even greater appreciation of their friendship and will treasure these pages of memory in the years to come.

ADMINISTRATION

An institution is no stronger than the men and women at the helm. Strength and courage to carry on the every day tasks and vision to plan wisely for the future are all exemplified in the Fort Hays administrators.

ENGLISH

Specialists in public speaking, creative writing, and the appreciation of good literature all join to instruct Fort Hays students in the art of the English language. No matter what other department may draw people into its ranks, English is still the basis for it all.

LANGUAGES

The culture of the Old World creeps into the Western curriculum through the study of foreign tongues. The romance of other civilizations is often unearthed as legends and folk tales are translated and interpreted.

HOME ECONOMICS

Maybe they'll teach, may be they'll marry; but most women find use for learning to cook and sew. The practical side of life draws many women to desire to become more efficient in the little things related to home making.

MUSIC

A deep bass voice wafts down from the practice room window and mingles with the tremor of a violin classic. Vocal ensembles harmonize while the band and orchestra prepare for concert tours. These instructors have a large share in the many outstanding musical achievements of the college.

Graduate Students

Veterans have we here—not old and gray, or bent with age but a few of the most able men and women who have survived the battles of undergraduate life. Freshman trials and tribulations, sophomore schemes, junior achievements, senior triumphs, and all the vagaries of student life are no longer their immediate or vital concern. Belt lines and pep parades, student politics and politicians, varsities and scandal columns, they view with reserve and dignity. Now retired from active fray they sit conversing with sages or wend their scholarly way across the campus, intent on future goals of success and achievement. By pursuance of advanced work, preservation of the traditions of our college, by reminiscences and tolerant advice to the "youngsters", they further honor their Alma Mater.

Little Big Shots

"Meat! Meat!" Upperclassmen go tearing across the campus, loosening belts as they go, when that stirring cry echoes through the air to signify that some unwary freshman has not worn his cap.
The erring freshman is not allowed to go his way again without proper chastisement or assistance. Every fall the beltlines form outside the cafeteria, after assemblies, outside the library, whenever and wherever possible, to enforce that time-honored function of the sophomore class—properly initiating the freshmen to the traditions and customs of the campus.

Lip-stick emphasizes the capless condition of the hapless coed who "just forgot". Her upper-class sisters gently draw her forth and paint her forehead, cheeks, and chin with the red letters, F. H. K. S. C. And not all of them are sophmores, either.

Lo! The poor freshmen! The annual tug of-war decides whether or not the freshmen should wear their caps during spring—and great is the fall thereof when either side does fall. The heftiest and the best of both classes tug it out in fierce determination, and victory on either side is justly celebrated.

Freshmen shouldn't have to wear caps? Don't think it for a minute—they wouldn't give them up! They like fighting against the symbol of their "green" state, and outwitting if possible their traditional sophomore foes. That freshman cap is somehow a symbol of the first year in college, what-ever it has meant. Many a sophomore, as he runs to take his place to harry a freshman through the "meat" line, still cherishes his own freshman cap down in the bottom of his heart, if not in his trunk!

ACTION

Tigers On Parade

Rat-a-tat-tat-tat, rat-a-tat-tat—the college band, all black and gold precision, marches down the street. Prancing drum majors, cheering students, freshmen with boxes for great bonfires, and inspiring yells all contribute their share of emphasis to the college spirit and pep on the Fort Hays campus. Pep meetings and games are attended by an enthusiastic group of rooters, and the stirring "Echo yell" reverberates hoarsely across the stadium and Coliseum arena time after time to let the fighting Tigers know that Fort Hays is behind them, one and all, that "Fort Hays IS red-hot."

Dominick "Teddy" Tedesco, diminutive yell leader captain, together with Jim Smith and Ralph Klienschmidt, led cheers during the sports season. Patricia Rockhold, flashing drum major, is due her share of honors, marching with the band down the football field between halves of home games or parading with the group down town.

Any student feels a thrill when the team crashes through the line to the stirring strains of "Go. You Hays Tigers." The referee's whistle shrills, valiant teams play on, the "Victory Whistle" blows, and Fort Hays is "tops" again, now and forever, in the hearts of her students.

The Big Parade

Old Grads! Coming back to their Alma Mater means a lot to them. Once a year the campus flaunts the black and gold which honors them. They come back to renew old associations, relive old memories, reminisce over days gone by, and to cheer once again for Fort Hays State.

Thanksgiving Day, 1920, marked the first Homecoming Day on the Fort Hays campus. Since then it has become an annual affair, and this year's Homecoming celebration on Saturday, October 22, furthered this tradition. A "Super-pep" bonfire and stunt contest, sponsored by the K Club on Friday night, were the opening events. Alumni appeared for business meetings of their organization on Saturday morning. During the afternoon a parade was held in the down-town district, presided over by the Homecoming Queen and King. Blanche Garlow and Walter Gaumer. Bands, floats and marching stunts were the order of the afternoon, with all campus organizations participating in the demonstrations. A special alumni barbecue was held at the Rock Garden in the evening.

The big feature of the Homecoming was the football game with the Emporia Hornets which was enlivened by marching stunts between halves. A Homecoming varsity and floor show was held in the Coliseum following the game. The various campus organizations held special entertainments in the form of breakfasts. luncheons. dinners, and teas for their alumni during the day.

Homecoming is always one of the biggest events of the year at Fort Hays. Everyone who has ever attended college here. From the oldest to the youngest graduate, is welcomed back. The campus and buildings are decorated with signs which welcome Alumni and predict a rampant Fort Hays Tiger's triumph over the day's football opponents.

College traditions and spirit are the order of the day as all manner of celebrations get under way. The younger college generation decides the older ones have a little life in them yet; the older generation decides the young folks aren't as wild as they had thought, and it's the same old school! Staid instructors relax professional dignity to become friendly and companionable with former students; the Great and Near-great return to pay homage to their Alma Mater; and awed under-graduates find them human after all. Fort Hays was never so gay or bright; Fort Hays is the best ever; and Fort Hays will win again tonight.

K-Club

One of the oldest organizations on the campus is the K—Club, composed of athletes who have won at least one letter in a major sport during their college careers.

Membership in this organization is coveted by every aspiring college athlete, but before he can become a member, he must go through the group's own private "hell week." The get-up and antics performed by K Club pledges have provided many a campus spectacle for student onlookers.

After initiation services the pledge becomes an active member. He becomes a part of an organization that regulates as well as sponsors campus activity. Their official capacity is to enforce campus rules and by-laws such as: to keep off the grass, and to see that freshmen wear their little black and gold caps—if and when they should. Forgetful freshmen are quite familiar with the belt line and paint brush. The K Club men always sit in a body in the "Tiger" cheering section, and woe be to the student who deserts the collect to venture across the arena in hopes of getting a better view of the game.

The K Club is one of the oldest organizations on the campus. Dr. Bice, prominent Hays Osteopath, and Dr. Albertson, a member of Fort Hays faculty are among the elder K Club alumni, having won their letters some twenty years ago.

The active roster of the K Club totals thirty-five members in which Walter Gaumer and Tony Gross are honorary members

Jim Sampson is K Club president, and John Barkley is secretary-treasurer. Aside from the usual K Club procedure, they have made appropriation for honorary keys for all the members in college this semester.

"K-Clubbers" are campus fixtures who will be forever remembered in this college. The athletic office is decorated with pictures of former K men who have lent their abilities to this institution. The K Club alumni are many and are kept informed as to the athletic results of the current season by weekly letters from the "Tiger" coaches. Thus the K Club is welded into one large fraternal organization of college athletes who have provided the spice of college life through their athletic endeavor in making the name "Tiger" a word to be feared in all sport events.

Slave Drivers

Clyde Beatty and his circus acts have nothing on Coaches "Busch" Gross. Paul Waldorf. Bill Bearley and Jim Sampson as these four slave-drivers send the Tigers through their paces after preliminary looking over by "Joe College" Balman, the big "bruise and bandage" man.

"Busch" as all the Tiger athletes know him, is a genial fellow who takes his basketball so seriously that he orders spring practices every April eve. The Tigers had a not-too-successful season this year but they managed to display their share of thrills with their fast-breaking shoot-and-run style of play. Notable victories last winter were cherished wins over Kansas State and Wichita as well as a few lesser triumphs. Gross is director of athletics as well as coach of basketball.

Coach Paul Waldorf, of the grid team, sends his charges through a tough schedule each fall and despite the fact that the opposition was tough, the Waldorf-trained Tigers were tougher winning seven of nine starts last fall. "Paul's" coaching ability received favorable comment for last year's season and one scribe awarded the grid mentor "orchids for the best coaching job in the state."

"Bill" like "Busch" is a Tiger alumnus who came back to help with the coaching of teams at the same school where he once played. Bearley coaches the track team and assists with the football coaching besides his duties as an instructor of physical education. "Bill's" track team appears headed for one of its better seasons this spring.

Youngest member of the coaching staff is Jim Sampson. Who is "Big Chief" to his many friends all the time, and "Big Chief" to the B squads in both football and basketball during fall and winter.

One of Fort Hays' most likeable students is "Joe", the trainer for the teams who turnbed benedict in the midst of a hard cold winter. So "Congratulations, Joe," and the Tigers, so often "ankle-wrapped by Joe." add their hearty "congrats," too.

Pigskin Parade Of 1938

King football reigned supreme in the Tiger sports picture for the past year as Coach Paul Waldorf's gridders came through with one of the best football seather teams found the going tougher than for several years.

In spite of the fact that many of 1937's stars were lost by graduation, the Tigers won seven out of nine games and were beaten in the conference only by Wichita's powerful Shockers. Hard work produced one of the best scoring machines ever to roam the gridirons for the black and gold, and after Saturday's crowds had stopped their roaring, the Tiger mentor was able to say, "Well done, boys, well done indeed."

The Tigers opened their season with a brilliant performance as Ward Riegel romped to three touchdowns, one of them ranking among the greatest in Tiger history as the shifty little back raced from the right sideline to the left chalkmarks and back again to the right with an 85 yard punt return.

The following week the Tigers had trouble stopping a spectacular Raven Aerial display as they made a great final quarter comback but lost. 19 to 14. But from that point on Tiger Trail was one long victory march until the season's finale. Flagstaff Teachers bowed before a Tiger ralley. 20 to 19: College of Emporia felt the Tiger might in a 20—0 beating: Emporia's Hornets were victimized 14—0: and Engineer Waldorf lost control of his Tiger limited as it roared to a 38—6 victory over Kearney.

But in the final game of the season, the championship game. Wichita Wheatshockers turned Tiger Shockers for a day and beat Fort Hays 15—7 in a hard-fought game played in bitter cold and driving gale. The Tigers scored first on nine power plays with Tobe Hunley and Riegel in the driver's seat, but the Shockers came back to win.

Hittin' The Hoop

Memories of the 1938-39 besketball season will long remain in the minds of Tiger cage fans, not because of the victories won but because of the thrilling games lost, as a "kid" team of Tigers gave the veteran teams of the other schools all they wanted in the way of competition.

Nine conference and two outside games were dropped by the young Tiger team but six of these were by breathlessly close margins and were decided only in the waning moments of play. Next year the Tigers will return with only one letterman gone as Fort Hays again seeks to reestablish itself as a Central conference basketball power.

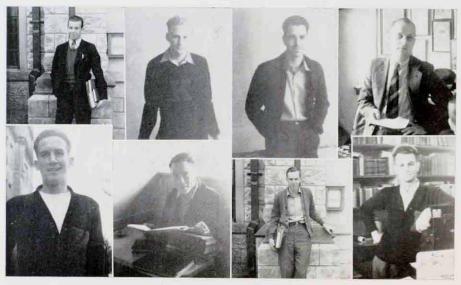

Fort Hays opened its season with a flash of power creating a small sensation when Kearney Teachers. Kansas State. College of Emporia and Colorado college fell before the Tiger rush. Colorado college then won a 32-31 victory over the Tigers and Emporia Teachers were fortunate indeed in pulling a 41-39 win out of the fire after "Spark-Plug" Ivan Carrell was lost on fouls.

Pittsburg Teachers and Wichita won from Hays on their home courts and St. Benedicts won a heart-breaker here before the Tigers defeated strong Oklahoma City.

Three more close games were lost before the Tigers came back strong to beat Wichita in overtime. 38-31, and in the conference finals Southwestern's Central and Intercollegiate champions won 33-32 and 61-48 victories. Oklahoma City won a 41-40 overtime tilt on the Goldbug court in the closing game of the season.

The season closed with a record of five won and two lost out of the conference and one won and nine lost in conference play.

The "Gods of Sport" seemed to be against the Tigers many, many times this year as opposing teams "got hot" in the closing minutes to win close decisions. But the Tigers kept up the fight and played their best ball in the closing games and are "doped" to be contenders next year.

As we see 'em on the campus.

Coach Bearley's track squad of forty-two members including seven lettermen, practiced faithfully during the long spring afternoons. K men available this year included Ward Riegel. Ford, sprints: Herb Small, Englewood, distance man: Don Michael, Medicine Lodge, half-miler: Gerald Sharp, Utica, quarter-miler: Everett Koelling, Abilene, dashes: Ted Hoover, Norton, half-miler; John Sipe, Ransom, dashes and quarter-miler and Alvin Staab, Hays, javelin and weights.

Outstanding newcomers to this years' Tiger squad included: Vern Theakston, Trousdale, who won third in the mile in the Class B meet last year; Newlin White, Colby, who placed second in the Class A burdles at the state meet; George Shipley, Holyrood, pole vault, Jack Moon, Liberal, sprints and pole vault: Howard Stehwein, Chaflin, weights and Wendall Pyle, Alexander, high-jump.

Potential point makers left over from last year are: Everett Koeling who placed second in the hundred yard dash and fourth in the 220 in the last conference meet. He and Riegel were leading contenders for the number "one sprint position. Another prospect, Alvin Staab, who was C.I.A.C. javelin champion in 1935 is expected to aid greatly.

The captain of the '39 track team is Ward Reigel.

Intra-Murals

Over three hundred college men participated in this year's intra-mural contests. Under this program students not wishing to compete for college honors have an opportunity to enjoy team sports and receive awards for outstanding effort.

Sports played this year were touch football, shuffleboard, aerial darts, table tennis, basketball, volley ball, swimming, horse shoes, tennis and soft ball.

Intra-mural awards are given to organizations, individuals, and to the two students making the highest possible points during the entire school year. The student making the highest number of points receives an honor sweater and intra-mural emblem. The winning team is presented with medals for each participant rather than a group trophy, and an intra-mural cup is also given to the winning organization for the year. Permanent possession of the cup is not gained until one team wins the cup three years in succession.

Intra-mural teams are composed of various oganizations on the campus. The chief contenders for the championship of intra-murals are the fraternities, but several independent teams put up stiff competition. The independents were the Spanish Athletic Club, YMCA. Campus Gang. Pot Likkers. Panthers. Collegians, and Ramblers.

The touch-football championship went to the Phi Sigs this year. The basketball championship went to the Phi Delts for the third successive year without a defeat, with the Phi Sigs and S. A. C. tied for second place. The shuffleboard doubles crown was won by Bob French and Carol Leichiter. James Duncan was table tennis champion.

Familiar faces to intra-mural spectators

Not springing tigresses with bared claws, but graceful dancing tigresses.

The Tigress in Action

The tigress goes into action! Most of the athletic contests for women on the campus are intra-mural and class tournaments, but these activities afford plenty of enthusiasm. Hockey is a "must" sport for a great number and large classes are held in the fall. The hockey team attended the Play Day at Kansas University where they competed with teams of other colleges.

"Shuffle right, shuffle left"—this is the tapping class. The other dancing classes include folk dancing, fundamental rhythms, and the more advanced classes—national and character, advanced interpretive, and modern dance. Music lovers of Kansas who attended the fine arts festival saw on the night of the "Mikado" some of the special numbers worked out by the dancing classes.

"This little piggy went to market. This little piggy stayed home." Oh, no, they're not playing nursery games, they are just correcting their flat feet in individual gym classes.

Physical Education clubs of all sorts are organized to further the interest of the girls such as the Duck Club which is an organization for advanced swimmers. Beginning members must be ducklings until they have passed certain requirements which enable them to become full-fledged ducks. The swimming pool is the center of real fun when the ducks and ducklings entertain their dates at an annual swimming party.

Orchesis, the dance club, is for those girls who are advanced dancing students. This group often makes public performances and their particular project for this year was the Modern Dance.

Freshmen and sophomore girls all take physical education. The first semester freshmen enroll in team games such as soccer or hit-pin baseball and fundamentals of physical education. Those needing special work enroll in individual gym. Second semester choices may be for tennis, basketball, baseball or minor sports and tap dancing.

The women's Physical Education department is supervised by Miss Elizabeth Barbour and Miss Geneva Millet with Miss Bernice Hemphill and Mrs. Maurine Bergland as part-time assistants.

Women Only

The field of athletics is not limited to the college men of the Fort Hays campus. The Women's Athletic Association has seen to that! Over fifty co-eds have boosted the activities of the W.A.A. this season.

Hiking, skating, basketball, tenequoits, hit-pin baseball, pingpong, and tennis-these are the activities you find the girls entering. Joining in these sports and intramural games gives the girls points. and it is necessay to each one to win a certain number to remain in W.A.A.

Last fall Margaret Reed received a black "K" sweater, which is the highest award that can be won, and Kathryn Bellman, Linnie Doris Kirkman, and Clara Hemphill won gold "K" sweaters with a smaller number of points.

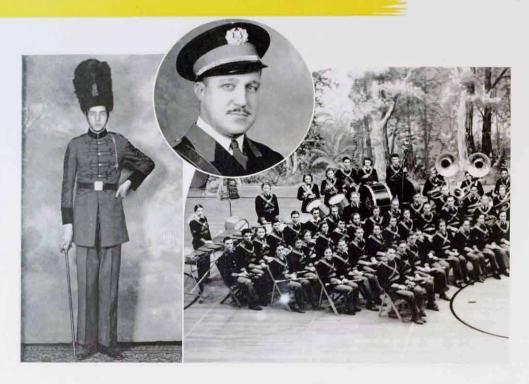

On May sixth they sponsored their annual play day which was attended by girls from a number of western Kansas high schools. Not to be outdone by New York or San Francisco the W.A.A. used a World's Fair theme for the entertainment of their guests. Teams were chosen from the group as a whole rather than having the different schools compete against each other, and the girls spent the day at various sports.

Eleven of the athletes went to Lawrence this year to enter the hockey play day at K. U. where they won all but one of their

To show that the girls are a versatile bunch and not given entirely to sports, they had their annual April Fool's Day party in the Womans' Building which, according to the boys, was equal to any party they had attended during the year.

Fort Hays State College Band

"Go you Hays Tigers—!" The students rise as one, stamping their feet, clapping their hands and singing lustily as the band swings into the rousing strains of "Go you Hays Tigers." At football or basketball games, the band is always present, doing its bit to urge the team on to victory. Flashy, between half, marching performances have done much in giving Fort Hays games real color.

Only two decades ago the "Fort Hays Normal School Band", as it was then called, contained only twenty members! For several years, immediately following, there was a slight increase in the enrollment of the band. In the year 1935, Mr. Virgil V. Edmends was put in charge of the band. Through his untiring efforts he raised the enrollment to 110 members.

and by 1937 secured new uniforms, added several new instruments to the band, and also booked them on extensive tours of western Kansas.

In the summer of 1938 Mr. Edmonds resigned his position and the college obtained Dr. Rudolph Anfinson as head of the music department to conduct the band. This year under his guidance the enrollment increased slightly over 1937-38. He took the band on an extensive fall trip in north-eastern Kansas and a spring trip in south-eastern Kansas.

The band has several outstanding performers among whom are Helman, drum major, who featured as trap drummer in a special number on the band tours. The Trumpet Trio, composed of Clair Anderson, 1st trumpet, Vernon Meckel. 2nd trumpet, and Frederic Geren, 3rd trumpet was among those presented. Other performers are Linnie Doris Kirkman, reader; Robert Wessel, piano, and Betty Behrns, trumpet: Susan Calvert, oboe: Naomi Griffith, marimba: Glenn Garten, vocalist (baritone), and Lloyd Reist, trombone.

In the band are several Senior music majors who will be sorely missed after their graduation: Lawrence Romeiser, bass, Glenn Garten, baritone, Gordon Casad, clarinet and Naomi Griffith, drums and tympani.

This grand organization works ceaselessly, appearing at nearly all public functions, either on the march or in concert. It is a group worthy of commanding our respect.

The entire personnel is given below:

Fort Hays State College Orchestra

The orchestra of Fort Hays Kansas State College is one of the outstanding ones in the state. In early years the orchestra boasted but three violins, one bass, two trumpets, one clarinet, piano, drums, three flutes, one bassoon, and one horn. That was in the year 1914. Like the band it has grown steadily, until in the last few years, under the guidance of Mr. Carl Malmberg it has grown to fifty in number.

An excerpt from an early Reveille said this of the orchestra, "Our orchestra of eighteen members is well on its road to fame and future school generations may well sit in awe of them". Little did they realize that from that meager beginning there would emerge one of the finest performing groups on our campus.

Not only has Mr. Malmberg increased the size of the orchestra, but he has also added several instruments to it.

The climax for the orchestra group came with their annual winter trip, ending with a most successful concert, for the students and towns people the following Sunday after it returned. This organization is without a doubt one of the best drilled on the campus.

The orchestra also has several outstanding performers who are featured in the concerts. James Jenkins, violin, Bonnie Zimmerman, violin, and Max Hughes, piano.

The entire personnel is listed below:

VIOLINS: Zimmerman, Jenkins, Thompson, Butler, Wilson, Bradley, Wolfe, Scherer, L. Felten, Romeiser, Reed, Buck, Sainer, Wade, Louderbaugh, VIOLA: Z. Felten, George Goepfert, E. Calvert.

CELLO: Hahn, R. Malmberg, Gantner, Daniels, Sytsma, Jury,

BASS: Wessel, Herman, Inloes,

FLUTE: Start. Reed.

BASSON: Boal.

HORNS: Sites. Brummitt, Hill. Harries.

TRUMPETS: Behrens, Geren, Earnest.

TROMBONE: Reist. Sterrett.

TUBA: Johnson.

PERCUSSION: Griffith, Van Doren.

There Shall Be Music

As entertainers, the glee clubs of Fort Hays State rank high. Thanksgiving. Christmas, and a great number of times they were called upon to give concerts. Tours in the spring, concerts in the fall, and rehearsals three times a week, that is the life of a glee clubber.

Oo oh ah a e, mi mi mi mi mi, were some of the sounds heard issuing from Picken auditorium as the groups rehearsed. One, two, three, four, as Miss Felten counts out time to her over-anxious pupils. Between three and four o'clock in the afternoon on Mondays. Wednesdays, and Fridays, one could generally hear Max Hughes and the Men's Glee Club striving to compromise on a common pitch. Then there were the interludes in which young Hobart would dash in, run up to dad and whisper in his ear and dash out again. Always action, even if it were only a baritone snoring in the back row.

All in all the Glee Clubs bring much credit to the college by their performances. This credit must be extended to Mr. Davis and Miss Felten who have worked so hard with these groups. Max Hughes can not be forgotten either. His mastery of the piano has brought him an encore on Glee Club trips. One of the busiest and most popular students on the campus, Max always found time to play for the Men's Glee Club. As long as Fort Hays State has its Men's and Women's Glee Clubs, there shall be Music.

EORENSICS

College Forensics are rapidly forging to the front! Students who have participated in debate and oratory know the thrill of meeting other students in tournaments where lasting frienships are formed. Debating experience is one of the greatest assets a student can have. It develops leadership, poise, the power to think quickly and to formulate ideas while speaking.

This year the debate squad was much larger than it has been in preceding years, indicating that students are more and more realizing the worth of speech experience. Speech is a phenomena of everyday life and to be an able speaker one must have much practice along special lines.

Pi Kappa Delta is a National Honorary Forensic Fraternity. To be eligible for membership in this organization, a student must have participated in at least five college debates and won four of them. Pi Kappa Delta is the largest debate fraternity in the world

Members and officers of Pi Kappa Delta this year were Gwen Dimmit, president; Amy Hildebrand, secretary-treasurer, and Clark Carlile, Wanda Mae Scott, Sene Carlile, Ivan Birrer, Izella Jackson-Philip. Lenore Burris. May Brownlee. Thomas Freeman, and Allen Mitchem. Professor James R. Start is the faculty sponsor, and it is through his efforts and helpful guidance that the debate class accomplishes what it does.

Debaters

Here we introduce two outstanding orators Amy Hildebrand, a junior debater, and Clark Carlile, a senior debater. Mr. Carlile has represented Fort Hays at two national debate tournaments. winning a large percent of the debates in which he participated. Miss Hildebrand has proved her-self outstanding in speech abilities and was one of the few women ever to serve as student assembly chairman on this campus.

To You From Us

Lights, Action. Camera, all spell w-o-r-k to the Reveille staff. Lights to the Reveille staff means the burning of mid-night oil. Action was what it took to get results. Without a camera who could put out an annual? Now that all is done, perhaps as a reward we shall receive a little peace and quiet.

As a group of playwrights we gathered the panorama of everyday college drama and attempted to put it in black and white. If any success is attained, it is due to Walter Wallerstedt and Mrs. Sampson who have been our guiding hands in the collection and arrangement of the material for this book.

And so to you from us, we present the 1939 Reveille.

Little Theatre

The 1938-39 school year has been one of great importance for the Little Theatre group. Increased enrollment has helped director Orvis Grout further the prestige and service of this department.

Student directing has played an important part in the Little Theatre program. Student directors for three-act plays have been inauguarated this year, thus providing excellent opportunity for practical experience.

Mr. Grout has also perfected the Russian penthouse method of presentation begun last year. In the penthouse presentation, there is no backstage. The properties are in the center of the floor with its entrances and exits made from dressing room doors. The audience is seated on four sides of this stage. Several plays were presented in this stage. Several plays were presented in this manner in the Woman's Building. Makeup was usually supplied by the regular make-up class.

The Children's Theatre is a rather unusual part of the Little Theatre group and gives the student directors another opportunity for work. This year about sixty children took part in the play "The Revolt of the Beavers."

Plays that were given during the year, either for public or laboratory performance, were: "Susan and God" directed by Kent Collier: "Little Women" directed by Margaret Williams: "I Have Five Daughters" directed by Willadine Dillon: "You Can't Take It With You" directed by Clark Carlile: "Call It A Day" directed by Linnie Doris Kirkman: "The Silver Cord" directed by Gwen Dimmitt: and "Personal Appearance" directed by James Jenkins.

"Red Harvest" was presented during the summer term. Moliere's play, "The Imaginary Invalid" was taken on the road and presented in approximately fifteen western Kansas towns.

Casts for the plays were as follows:

"The Imaginary Invalid"

James Wiley, Arvena Almquist-Farley, Izella Philip, Maxine Vallette, Scotty Philip, Bert Bergland, Billy Bonewell, and Maurine Bergland. "Little Women"

Izella Philip, Lorraine Carper, Betty Wallerstedt, Maxine Vallette, Jane Flood, Frederic Geren, Vernon Ostendorf, Dorilynn Davenport, Bill Bonewell, and Phil Lauver.

"You Can't Take It With You"

"Personal Appearance"

Doris Swanson, Bernice Betthauser, Mary Scherer, Bill Bonewell, Wanda Mae Scott, Maurine Bergland, Rex Culley, C. D. Page, Lawrence Bechtold, and Thaine Simmonds.

"The Silver Cord"

Margaret Clark, Max King, Lois Heaney, Dean Saylor and Winnie Baker.

"Susan and God"

Dorothy Hunsicker, Bert Bergland, Imogene Gick, Lucille Burke, James Wiley, Maxine Vallette, Darold Sutor, Ruby Mc-Cowan, Peter Geobel, and Chester Collier.

"Call It A Day"

"Call It A Day"

Mary Huddleston, Scotty Philip, Doris Jordon, Guy Barnes, Floy Richards, Lee Rothe, Shirley Wright, Bert Bergland, Dorlyn Wade, Lorrene Moore, Lorraine Campbell, Kenneth Mock, Josephine Eilts, and Linnie Doris Kirkman.

GREEKS

"When Greek Meets Greek"

To the Greeks falls the pleasure of portraying the gayiety of college life in the day-by-day spectacle of living drama on the Fort Hays State campus. They offer color and setting for real college life.

Troupers royal are the Greeks in this regal quest of joyful living. Their parties, formals, and general get-togethers form a nucleus for the happy social hours that make campus life more enjoyable.

Life-long friendships are established as a result of the Greek fellowship, many of which bring about an "I do" at the altar.

Rivalry is keen among the Greek organizations as each group goes after pledges during rush-week, and later when each tries to top the other in social affairs which reach a grand finale in the spring formals. Yet when the Greeks gather for an open house they become one happy family from Alpha to Omega.

The Greek intramural teams also win their share of athletic honors. Nor is the inevitable academic phase of college life slighted by the Greeks. Members of the Pan Hellenic group vie for a scholastic shield, and library nights are observed when the nine-week periods show low grade points.

The influence of the Greek organization makes the difference between an extra and a lead. Not only does the Greek know his lines, as he learns them in the classroom, but he has the stage presence which is necessary to put the story over to the demanding audience.

Yes, indeed, the Greeks have a definite part in the unfolding drama of college life!

Extra Curricular Activities

The grand gesture of going to college to get an "education" is superseded by a sincere, intrinsic desire on the part of the student to prepare and to find within himself those inherent abilities capable of being developed. Thus is conceived the true leader, the real success. In order to do all of this, the average student is aware that he must gain some extraneous experience and training beyond the classroom and academic pursuits; and he turns to extra-curricular activities.

Bulletins, news dispatches, just plain advertising, from every college, attempt to impress us that "—ample opportunity is provided for developing those traits and characteristics which tend toward genuine leadership." From participation in activities merely for divertissement, comes the realization that sometime, someday, there will be a time when this knowledge will give life its meaning.

So—by the time we are juniors and seniors we enroll in some religious organization. such as the Y M C A or Y W C A, or Newman Club, not because we are told it will look well on our transcript, but because we now realize the broadening, socializing effect which such associations have for us. Essentially we conceive this as a desirable faculty for the future. From the general activities we are eventually led to choose the few specific ones that fit well with our work.

There are, however, some disadvantages and abuses of these lauded opportunities. Many students enter college with the sole idea of having a good time. and decide, reasonably enough, that participation in many extra-curricular activities will aid them in that manner. Surely always having something to do, being superficially important, making friends and contacts, and having a part in many different things, are evidences of "getting around." Of course, this deters from the more serious lectures and text book learning, as well as from definite social activities. In contrast there is the student who withdraws within himself, perhaps studies a great deal, but who at any rate, does not take advantage of the means provided to thrust him from his shell.

The real advantage of extra-curricular activities is gained in associations and contacts. It is the problem of the student to strike a balance and determine what is worthwhile. Here at Fort Hays State the means are provided, so that a conscientious student need never graduate without some of the necessary experience which is gained in college pursuits other than in classrooms.

Student Council

The Student Council, under the supervision of Dean F. B. Lee, is the governing body, representing the students for just and efficient government. In administering its duties according to the student constitution of this college, the Student Council declares all special holidays, (with the consent of the administration), sponsors school elections, regulates social activities, appoints special committees, decides on Pike Day (the college holiday), administers justice whenever it is needed for campus offenses, and helps to provide other types of entertainment for the students.

This year the Student Council chose a Student Constitutional Revision Committee to bring the constitution up to date. The Committee was chosen from the members of various classes, thus affording a type of training which will prove invaluable in large life.

The Student Council is composed of 15 members chosen from the senior, junior, sophomore, and freshman classes, Wilbur De Young was chosen presiding officer of the council for this year, James Finley has served as vice-president, and Galen Flora as secretary.

The Women's Leadership Organization

The Women's Leadership Organization is composed of a group of women whose primary purpose is to promote leadership among the women on the campus. Election to the group is based upon the record of leadership and achievement shown. A candidate must be a recognized campus figure and outstanding in some special department. An extensive list of prospective leadership timber is suggested by the existing group, from which the Women Faculty Members elect the members.

"Boy's Town"

The organization of men's dormitories known as Lewis Field is unique and interesting. It is unique because it is one of the very few of its kind in the country. It is interesting because of the purpose it serves and the activities it sponsors.

Beginning five years ago Lewis Field was a pioneer movement. The barracks were poorly furnished, not adequately heated, nor were they well lighted. Only the barest necessities were available in bath and toilet facilities. At the head of this organization was a man of vision, courage, and ability-Dr. W. D. Moreland of the college faculty. Today one can see the results of his work. In the place of large barren halls and crowded sleeping quarters, in every apartment one finds comfortable chairs, study tables and desk lamps, new gas heaters, and a radio. Now only six men sleep where ten or twelve formerly slept. Locker space is provided for every man. A regularly paid janitor keeps each apartment clean.

The magnificent Lewis Field Stadium is the latest addition. Here a large number of men make their homes in comfort.

No convenience is lacking. A recreation hall is furnished with pool tables and ping pong tables. In the lounge room, chromium plated furniture lends an air of cheerfulness and comfort. A fine piano, card tables, good magazines and numerous daily papers complete the picture.

This year Mrs. Lewis, wife of the late president of the college, assumed new duties as "mother" of Lewis Field. She finds joy in her work as general hostess, caring for the sick, and advising all "her boys" in numerous matters. Mother Lewis has filled a vacancy in the heart of many a lonesome boy and during the few months she has been with them, the men of Lewis Field have learned to love her.

Andy Riegel, who is the general supervisor over Lewis Field, is also popular with the boys, well liked and efficient. This is his second year in his present position. Politically, socially, and scholastically, Lewis Feild has advanced until today it is prominent in each field. A sound health program, greater selectivity of applicants, and the strong leadership of Doctor Moreland, have placed a definite stamp of high quality upon Lewis Field men.

Y. M. C. A.

The Young Men's Christian Association on the Fort Hays campus is one of the three outstanding organizations concerned primarily in extending the religious and social interests of college life. The programs have consisted of talks and lectures given by students, faculty members, and ministers of this locality.

The Y M. besides other activities, has taken active interest in the college intra-mural program.

In cooperation with the other religious organizations of the campus, the Y M helps sponsor "Religious Emphasis Week" each spring semester. At various times during the school year the Y's have joint meetings. This year the Y.M.C.A. has been under the direction of Standlee V. Dalton, faculty adviser. Walter Keating, senior from Lincoln, was acting president for the first semester and Allen Mitchem, junior from Oakley, was acting president for the second semester.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y.W.C.A. strives to attain high religious ideals in regard to campus living. The year's program included "Round the World" talks, group discussions, and charm study. Creative Leisure and Freshman Interest groups have been especial projects: "Get Acquainted Day" and Religious Emphasis Week are the annual events fostered by the "Y." The Mother-Daughter banquet was held May 6.

Miss Maude Gorham is faculty sponsor of the group. The Cabinet consists of Frances Scranton, Mildred George, I usse Evans, Annalee Burnett, Leona Bray, Lorene Harger, Ruth Frusber, Margaret Paxton, Doris Whitney, Verna Wendelin, Dorothy Stutzman, and Alberta

Jennings.

Pi Gamma Mu

Kansas Theta Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu was established on the Fort Hays Kansas State College campus in 1931. Founded as a national social science honor society, it has as its purpose the advancement of the cause of the scientific study of social problems. Membership is limited to juniors, seniors, graduate students, instructors and alumni, in the field of social science who have attained a high degree of scholarship in that department.

Newman Club

The Newman Club is a Catholic organization deriving its name from their patron. Cardinal Newman, who was outstanding for his intellecuality and spirituality.

The purpose of the Newman Club is to strengthen and fortify the spiritual life of the students; to stimulate and increase their interest and knowledge in religion: to bring about their mutual acquaintances; and to engender a feeling of solidarity and strength through social contacts.

The program of the Newman Club is threefold: religious, educational, and social. It embraces voluntary discussion groups, inquiry or question box classes, lectures by lay and clerical speakers and general social activities as dances, games, picnics, and outings.

Officers are. Paul Stenger. pres.: Thomas Brungardt, vice pres.: Tom Mosier, secreetary: Mr. James R. Start, faculty sponsor; and Rev. Dennis Tarter, chaplain.

International Relations Club

In May, 1936, Dr. Welty helped to organize and became the sponsor of the International Relations Club on the campus. The purpose of the Club is to study material of national and international importance and to keep the member informed of the daily world events.

The Club is fortunate to have at its disposal a library furnished by the Carnegie Peace Endowment, Membership in this club is limited to thirty-five members, and each must prove himself interested in the field of international relations and have at least one semester of college work.

The president of the club is Margie Holland. Other officers are Tom Smith, vice-president: Katherine Jennison, secretary: Wayne Howell, membership chairman: Lenore Burris and Robert French, program chairman; and Gwen Dimmitt, social chairman.

Quill Club

The Quill Club is an honorary organization for the purpose of furthering writing abilities among students. The chapter located on this campus is a member of the American College Quill Club.

Each year the club sponsors a writing contest open to all regularly enrolled students, for the purpose of bringing out latent talent among the college group.

Officers of the Quill Club this year were: Chancellor, Gwen Dimmitt; Vice-Chancellor, Dr. Zinszer; Scribe, Lenore Burris; Warden of the Purse, Naomi Griffith; Keeper of the Parch tents, Dr. Streeter,

The active members were Dr. F. B. Streeter. Dr. M. E. McGinnis, Dr. H. A. Zinszer. Shirley Gibson. Naomi Griffith, Gwen Dimmitt, and Lenore Burris. Pledges were Willadine Dillon. Josephine Eilts, Clark Carlile. Dorilyn Davenport, Sene Carlile, Lottie Linebaugh, and Frances Scranton.

Seventh Cavalry

Seventh Cavalry is an organization of undergraduate men noted for leadership and outstanding abilities. Membership is limited to those who are voted into the club unanimously, the total not to exceed fifteen Each year Seventh Cavalry publishes the student directory (Delator) and grants a semester's scholarship to one man student, the selection being made on the basis of need, scholarship, and achievement.

The aim of Seventh Cavalry is to develop leadership, to promote worthwhile activities, and to advance college training.

The active members are Wilbur DeYoung. Clark Carlile. Lyman Wooster. James Sampson. John Barkley, Ward Reigel. Tom Smith. Jack Johnson. Lawrence Romeiser, Hugo Pfortmiller, Wayne Loomis. Claude Bice, Herbert Cole, and Max Hughes.

Delta Epsilon

Delta Epsilon is a National Honorary Science Society whose purpose is to stimulate interest in scientific attitude and research. To be eligible for membership a student must be a major in the science department, must be a senior, and show definite superior scholarship.

The officers of the local chapter are, President, F. W. Albertson; Vice-President, J. W. Chappell, Secretary-Treasurer, Standlee V. Dalton; Senators, A. W. Barton, and Harvey Zinszer.

The society holds regularly monthly programs at which both students and faculty present papers of scientific interest.

Engineer's Club

The Engineer's Club is recognized on the college campus as a substantial organization responsible in some measure for the progress of many young engineers who have gone ahead in their field. The enrollment each semester ranges from thirty to forty members and includes students interested in all phases of engineering. Programs are made up of outstanding speakers or research by the the members. Each year a day is set aside for engineers to have their banquet and engineer's day, which brings to the campus some distinquished speaker.

The officers of the club are ambitious young engineers worthy of mention. They are: President. Kenneth Moore: Vice-President. Virgil Thompson: Secretary. Alford Stackhouse: Treasurer. Victor Tompkins: Publicity Manager. John Lund.

Professor E. E. Colyer sponsors the club and insures its success. It is also through the perfect attendance of the Faculty Advisor. Dr. C. T. McCormick, and his sound judgment that the purpose of the club is reached.

Second Generation Students

Just a chip off the old block! The same campus and same classrooms that were haunted by the parents are again filled with their walking likenesses—the children. Like father, like son—we find these young people traveling the same halls of learning and suffering the same pangs of education. The second-generation students are indeed proud to claim and sound the praises of "Out" Alma Mater.

Home Economics Club

Home Economics Club is an organization of majors and minors in the department of Home Economics. The club holds scheduled meetings once a month. Through progams and social functions the spirit of Home Economics is fostered and each year representatives of the club attend the State Convention of Home Economics to share ideals with other girls and women over the country.

The club also maintains a loan fund of one hundred dollars to aid worthy Junior and Senior girls.

Miss Margaret Haggart is the faculty sponsor and has been responsible for the many interesting speakers and programs this year.

W. A. A.

The field of athletics is not limited to the college men of the Fort Hays campus. The Women's Athletic Association have seen to that! Over fifty coeds have boosted the activities of the W.A.A. this season.

During the winter months the W.A.A. use the arena gym for basketball, hit-pin baseball, and tenniquoits, W.A.A. teams also compete in intramural contests,

Not to be outdone by New York or San Francisco, the W.A.A. used a World's Fair theme for the annual play day on May 6. Girls of several Western Kansas high schools attended as guests.

"Yes, the W.A.A, are really a versatile bunch, and no fooling," say the boys who attended the April Fool's Day party in the Women's Building.

W.A.A. members are: Kirkman, Sire. Rogers, B. Jury, King, Hildebrand, Horner, Garlow, Johnson, Schleymeyer, Bellman, M. Jury, Fellers, Giess, Beard, Schwartzkopf, Miller, Johansen, Reed, Fink, Bogart, and Jordon.

Graduate Club

We dare not overlook that wise and somewhat older group, who are climbing higher and higher in the field of higher learning. A group that knows the value of advanced training and preparation in the various fields of education.

In this group we find future college professors and heads of the leading institutions. Men and women who are climbing to the top.

Those eligible for membership to this organization must be doing work toward a masters degree.

Kappi Pi

To those who are inclined to be artistically minded, we present the art department, and the National Art Fraternity, Kappa Pi.

Nu Chapter of Kappa Pi was formed on this campus in the spring of 1937. Its purpose is to form a representative body of students who, on account of their artistic interests, meet for the purpose of informal study and entertainment.

To be a member of Kappa Pi a student must have a B average, have twelve hours accredited work in art, and be an art major or minor,

Miss Mabel Vandiver is the sponsor of the local organization.

There are seventeen active members and pledges. Helen Hinthorn is president of Kappa Pi.

Professional Club

The purpose of the professional club is to create interest and promote a broader understanding in lines of professional work. The membership includes all professions with the exception of pre-engineers.

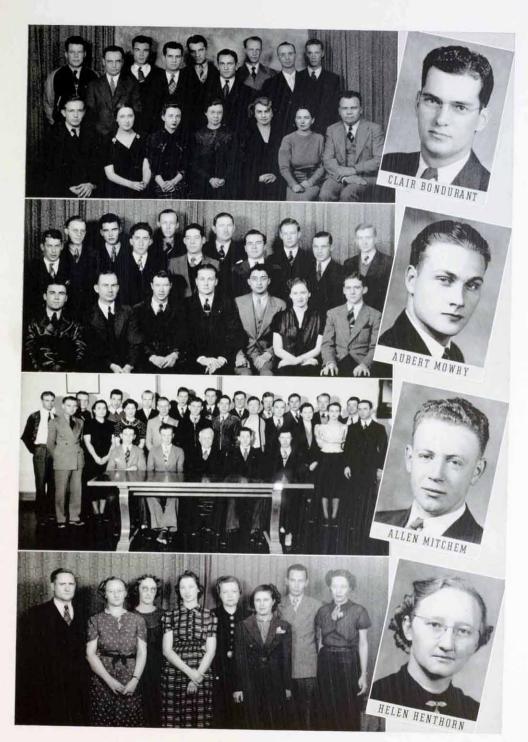

Each year the club takes a trip to some metropolitan center and visits laboratories, hospitals and law offices in order that the students can see for themselves the kinds of work for which they are studying.

The group meets weekly, to report on investigations and research work-

Parliamentary Law

What to do and what not to do is what concerns the Parliamentary Law students. Each Thursday at four P. M., in Picken, a little group meets. At exactly 4:10 P. M., Prof. Brooks picks up his little black enrollment book, clears his throat, and calls the roll. At exactly 4:12½ P. M., Teacher Brooks takes up Roberts' Rules and gives a five minute lecture on what to do. At 4:17½ P. M., the chairman takes the chair. At 4:17.3/4 P. M., the secretary reads the minutes of the last meeting. At 4:18.6/7 P. M., fur starts flying. Melee of students who are telling others what not to do emerges, every semester, the cream of the politicians. Without a doubt many of our outstanding politicians, both in our college and in our country, gained their tanks by learning what to do and what not to do in a parliamentary law club.

Tiger Club

Maybe you aren't a two hundred pound tackle or a six-foot-four basketball center, but even if you are just a four-foot-five runt, you can help win the game by using your lungs. That is the opinion of the Tiger club whose sole purpose is to produce pep. With gold and black uniforms giving a solid splash of Fort Hays color to the basketball games, with voices lifted in vision on "Go you Hays Tigers", the Tiger club indeed formed a nucleus of pep which the student body and visitors could not overlook. Through the splendid example set by the pep clubs of the campus, it is small wonder that "school spirit" runs as high as it does on the campus of dear old F. H. K. S. C.

Tigerettes

"Rah. Rah. Fort Hays State!" echoes through the stadium. Fifty girls in attractive gold suede sweaters and black skirts form the heart of the cheering section at all athletic events. The Tigerettes lead the pep rallies and often sponsor school varsities after the big games. They also sponsor the annual election of the Home-Coming King and Queen. Membership is honorary and each girl considers herself lucky to be elected into the Tigerettes. The organization is capably sponsored by Miss Mary Mae Paul with the belp of president, Margie Holland.

Wesley Hall

"Girls' Dormitory" that's Wesley Hall. Fifty-four girls—blondes, brunettes, and red-heads live here with Mrs. Wharton as house-mother, Wesley Hall is maintained by the Methodist Church for college girls, and no place will you find more fun, laughter, or hard work than in its spacious rooms, long halls, and large parlors.

As at all dormitories, the girls keep hours. This year Mother Wharton had a set of chimes installed to take the place of the regular bell to remind the girls that it was ten-thirty and time to say good-night.

During the year the girls entertained with a picnic and later with an informal party at the Women's Building.

Custer Hall

Across the creek and up the walk the young swain enters if he doesn't balk An imposing mansion with eighty-eight wards whose honor and safety Mother Mac guards. Custer Hall, on whose steps each night are seen amazing romantical sights—

Fun-loving girls whom the lights blink on and hide disappointment with merry song.
